#DIVERGENT

In a perfect world, everyone grows up in different factions (Abnegation, Amity, Candor, Dauntless, or Erudite). They remain there until the age of sixteen, when they must take an aptitude test to discover which faction they would be the most suitable for. On the choosing ceremony, the next day, they must choose which faction they will choose to spend the rest of their life in. Before they can truly be a part of the faction that they choose, they must undergo a series of tests to see whether they truly belong, or not. Seems easy enough, right? However, if you fail these tests, you could become factionless.

When Tris Prior finds out a shocking twist, she must make the impossible decision to be daring, or stay with her family, in the faction she's always known. However, she never knew how daring she would truly have to be. As she starts to learn more about herself, and how the perfect world she thought she knew wasn't so perfect after all, she is faced with more challenges and obstacles than she ever thought she'd face.

DIVERGENT

What is Divergent? Will Tris survive the challenges ahead of her? And will she be able to keep the most dangerous secret of all to herself? Find out in Veronica Roth's Divergent.

A black and white photograph of a forest path. The path is paved and leads into a wooded area with many trees. In the distance, a vibrant rainbow is visible, arching over the path. The text "ONE CHOICE CAN TRANSFORM YOU" is overlaid on the image in a bold, black, sans-serif font.

ONE CHOICE
CAN TRANSFORM YOU
